WHO ARE WE?

At Père Fouettard, we focus exclusively on children's literature and picture books, for children from 0-3 year-old up to 8-11 year-old.

We wish to see children read and enjoy it. We want to see them have fun, dream, marvel at the world and, from very early on, we mean to encourage them to think for themselves and to question things. Though we publish books for children, we never forget the adults that are guiding them in this adventure, these grown-ups who have never let go of their fun and boisterous inner-child. Books that inspire readers of all ages to laugh and ponder, books that bring generations closer.

Steering clear from stereotypes, we invite youngsters and adults to travel together throughout the pages, to share moments of freedom, of laughter, of bonding, while looking at the world without prejudice. We hope to stimulate our readers from a very young age to enjoy the experience, so that reading becomes an act of joy, of discovery, of wonder, of reflection and questioning.

Since our foundation in 2014 in Alsace (East of France), we publish around 8 titles per year, partly with French or French-speaking authors and partly with foreign authors. We hope you enjoy reading our catalogue and are available by e-mail or phone to talk further about it. We have all the PDF versions of our titles in English and Spanish, as well as German and a few other languages for certain titles. We look forward to sharing our magic with your readers!

Did you know?

In French culture, the « Père Fouettard » is a « mean » character punishing children behaving badly when Father Christmas or St Nicolas gives presents to the well-behaved ones.

At Père Fouettard publishing, we reach out to children who do not always do as they are told... and help the other ones dream wider.

Animal Oopizootics

Text and illustrations by Martin McKenna

Rights reserved for English

Today, Mr. B's class is going to the zoo. So, what do the children know about the animals? Well, the gorilla wants to play hide and seek, the lemurs dream of pie fights, and the big cats would kill it at jazz playing. And what about the penguins? They wish they could ride a roller coaster. They told it to the children, so, there is no doubt about it!

What we love

- o Themes: school trip, animals, freedom, zoo.
- o A very famous and awarded author. (British Fantasy Award for Best Artist, Incorruptibles Award), his work has been sold in many countries so far.
- o A bright, lively story where kids know best.
- o A fun and unconventional teacher.
- o A modern view on zoo & animal's place.

Martin McKenna is a British illustrator. He wrote many successful picture books. In UK, he worked with Scholastic, Time-Warner, HarperCollins and Oxford University Press, illustrating popular authors such as Anne McCaffrey, Raymond E. Feist and Harry Turtledove. ## Birds of all Feathers, Flock Together!

Text & illustrations by Laurent Cardon

What we love

- o Themes: competition and power, equity and debating.
- o A smart, funny parable of power, democracy, and the individual's place in society.
- o A deliciously funny twist in the end.
- o Recommended by The National Youth Library of South Korea.
- o Winner of Cultura's 2016 Best Picture Book Prize, the Feu Follet Prize, and Les Incorruptibles book prize.

One morning in the chicken coop, panic rises among white hens, black hens and red hens. A bird is missing. The fox is to blame, no doubt about it. The chickens decide to raise an army and wage war against the predator. But getting organized is much more complicated than expected... Who should lead? How to form ranks?

Birds of all Feathers, Flock Together! 2

Text & illustrations by Laurent Cardon

Already 6000 copies sold in less than a month!

What we love

- Modern and current themes: gender equality, feminism, parenting.
- The long awaited follow-up of Birds of all feathers!
- A fun and corrosive text!
- Expressive and adorable characters.
- A story about eggs and chickens, perfect for Easter.

Sitting on eggs is essential to keep the future little chicks warm. But it is a bit boring, and it also brings pressure. Can the hens take breaks? And why not make the roosters participate?

Loupiote

Text by Catherine Latteux
Illustrations by Camille Tisserand

By a cold winter night, a she-wolf saves an abandoned baby and returns her to humans. 5 years later, the wolf becomes a mother and can't stop thinking about the little girl. She finds out the girl is mistreated and rescues her again. A tender story about abandonment and adoption, featuring incredible drawings showing with a unique style the fusion with nature.

What we love

- o Themes: abandonment, adoption, wild life.
- o A fairy-tale ambiance.
- o Delicate and lace-like illustrations, that convey a unique bond with nature.

Former teacher, Catherine Latteux is now fully dedicated to creating stories for children. Sometimes with humor, other times with poetry, her stories make you laugh or think, but above all else, they make reading enjoyable!

Camille Tisserand is a graphist and illustrator graduated in 2012 from the Art Décoratifs School in Strasbourg. She also illustrated Vodou, available for foreign rights.

Vodou

Illustrations by Camille Tisserand

This document presents the voodoo culture in a fun way. Far from scary clichés, it explores the history of this culture without borders, the rituals and fascinating pantheon with its strong, fiery yet so «human» divinities and spirits.

From the history of slavery to contemporary dances, from Africa to Louisiana, from Chango the Warrior to Ochun, goddess of Love, this vividly illustrated album is rich in learnings and materials to play, dream, wonder, think and grow.

What we love

- o Themes: African, American, Brazilian, Cuban and Haitian culture and ancestry, history, philosophy, religion.
- o Vividly colored illustrations.
- o Ambiguous concepts made easy to understand!
- o A serious scientific basis, with the backing of the museum of Voodoo of Strasbourg and a solid bibliography.
- o Goes with a coloring book.

Shepherd & Wolf

Text by François Aubineau
Illustrations by Jérôme Peyrat

What we love

- o Themes: wilderness, nature, tolerance and cohabitation.
- o A much talked topic appealing to everybody.
- o A positive ending opening the way to further reflections.
- o A positive response from critics.

A wolf and a shepherd share the same mountain. Enemies by nature, they are much closer to each other than they think. This double-sided album from our Grain de Sable (grain of sand) collection is elevated by the lively, expressive artwork of Jérôme Peyrat.

32 pages - 23x23cm - 4 yrs +

Francois Aubineau combines talents and experience: he's been a mountain trekker, a photographer, a model, a sales rep, a shepherd in the 2000' s and is now a mountain guide.

Jérôme Peyrat combines techniques to obtain original and hybrid illustrations. He also illustrated Barry and Melvin, Carnivore, Cargo and Bertie & Twig. Many of his works have been translated into Spanish, Italian, Arabic, Korean and Chinese.

The Cargo ship

Text by Adèle Tariel
Illustrations by Jérôme Peyrat

What we love

- o Themes: nature, dream, the Sea, parent-child relationship.
- o What do parents do when they are not with their kids? A kid becomes a seagull in a dream to answer that question.
- o A wide range of hues of blue that will open your eyes and imagination.
- o A very soothing, poetic and artful book to explain the beauty of marine works that sea-lovers will adore.
- o A duo of talented authors, internationally renowned, and translated into more than 11 languages.

A seagull flies above the cargo ship. Spots the Captain, who looks so small from the sky that he almost doesn't recognize him. Tonight, the bird will follow him, fighting against winds and waves. Above all, the seagull refuses to lose sight of him. He has to fly between the darkness of the sky and the sea, watching over the Captain until he returns safely to port.

Once upon a time lived mice in a country called Mouseland. They lived a lot like we do and they even voted.

Strangely enough, though, they happened to vote massively for... cats. Big, fat, cats.

Until one day, a mouse had an earth-shaking new idea.

What we love

- o Themes: freedom, free speech, rights.
- o A talented, original and awarded illustrator.
- o A story inspired from the Canadian politician Tommy Douglas's speech, as known as it is funny.
- o A story designed for children as well as adults.

1000 Cows

Text by Adèle Tariel
Illustrations by Julie de Terssac

What we love

- o Themes: animal well-being, overproduction, farming.
- o An environmental and modern tale on always wanting more.
- o Illustrations in various techniques and pasting.
- o A chain tale making both grown ups and kids laugh and think.

32 pages - 23x23cm - 3 yrs +

A farmer lives happily with his three cows. One day, a man in a suit and tie suggests he produces even more of this delicious milk. It seems like a good idea and he adds three cows, then four, then seven more... And on and on. Soon enough, the poor farmer is overwhelmed with this new dynamic. His three original cows end up running away. Going after them, he realizes that the more is not always the better. Happy end!

My Daddy is a fish

Text by Céline Claire
Illustrations by Violaine Costa

What we love

- o Themes: children without a father, confidence and seeking for answers, parental figure.
- o Sweet and delicate images.
- o A sensitive text, filled with hope and tenderness.

32 pages - 23x23cm - 4 yrs +

When the first day of class arrives, a little boy is confused to hear the other kids ask about his father: he's never had one. « My daddy went back to the sea, 'cause he is a fish », he announces, proudly yet embarrassed. He tries hard to convince everyone, and mostly himself this is true! However, when called a liar, he goes to the sea, hoping to find his father. Instead, he meets a man who could become his father.

Without drama nor pathos, this book focuses on the absence of dear ones with poetic language and accuracy.

Céline Claire spent her childhood playing hide-and-seek in a barn and eating oranges next to the stove. She became a teacher to never stop building snowmen and stories.

Graduated from the Emile Cohl School, Violaine Costa is a skillful artist who has illustrated many children's books. She likes using chinese paper cutting and traditional illustration methods amongst other techniques, giving her work a very special depth.

The Mirror's Monster

Text & illustrations Anne Mahler

What we love

- o Themes: self-esteem, complexes, personal growth.
- o A popular and mediatic theme.
- o A positive book with very bright illustrations.
- o A comforting reminder of what really matters: the love that's given to us, and most of all, self-love.

Facing the mirror, Louise only sees flaws, a real monster! But her little brother sees her as a hero, and dad says she is a clown. She is the comfiest bed ever for her cat Slipper, and a great adventurer for her friend Anaïs. Yes, Louise is all of these things, and much more!

Radegonde and the Dragon

Text by Naïma

Illustrations by Anne Mahler

What we love

- o Themes: tolerance and subjectivity.
- o A reversible book, thus offering 2 points of view to 1 story, helping readers develop a sense of objectivity.
- o A courageous girl, full of resources, as the main character.
- o Colorful, vivid and joyful illustrations.

In a quiet town nestled on a river bank, people fear the heavy rains that foretell the rise of a terrible dragon: Grand'goule. When one day, the beast comes out of its dark lair in the deep of the earth and attacks the town, enough is enough! Young Radegonde, a brave and inventive girl, decides to deliver the town from its plague. She comes up with a plan to get rid of the monster, once and for all. But when the reader turns the book around, it is the dragon's turn to speak and to give her side of the story.

40 pages - 23x23cm - 4 yrs +

Naïma was born in 1985. History teacher and storyteller, she lives in Poitiers.

Anne Mahler studied at the prestigious art school Ecole Pivaut in Nantes. She has illustrated many books in France and is an award-winning artist.

Mirette

Text by Delphine Tartine
Illustrations by Olivier Rublon

What we love

- o Themes: travel, independence, cultural differences.
- o A world where the bright, almost neon colours give immediate life to the characters.
- o A cute story about finding one's own way.
- o For food lovers!
- o A Ratatouille-like character.

40 pages - 21 x 29 cm - 4 yrs +

Mirette is a little mole who wants to discover the world and find her own little hole to call it home. She meets strange groups of moles while carrying a cheese and worms cake in her backpack and escapes various dangers. She finally figures out that sharing good food brings people together so she decides to open her own restaurant. An adorable story about self-discovery and discovering others through an amusing look at our modern lives.

Delphine Tartine is a teacher in Britain.

Olivier Rublon studied Fine Arts at the Pivaut school. He mixes traditional and digital techniques. He draws inspiration from Franquin, Ghibli Studio and video games! Hence his illustrations are as modern as they are original. Delphine and Olivier are the authors of The Freaks, also available for foreign rights.

My Nanny is a giraffe

Text by Perrine Joe
Illustrations by Anne-Soline Sintès

What we love

- o Themes: tolerance, segregation and racism.
- o The most amazing nanny since Mary Poppins!
- o Sweet, tender and dynamic illustrations that convey joy and optimism.
- o A positive ending that sparks dialogue with children.

The Dragon who breathed anything, anything but Fire

Text by Sylvain Zorzin
Illustrations by Brice Follet

What we love

- o A nutty and hilarious story which smartly parodies time-honored fairy tales.
- o Inventive illustrations full of details that will captivate readers.
- o A bunch of zany, delightful characters.

36 pages - 23x23cm- 4 yrs +

Bernard is a strong and brave dragon. But one day, the most unbelievable thing happens: he can't breathe fire anymore. He breathes all sorts of things except beautiful, scorching flames: out of his terrible mouth comes out a vase, an electric guitar, a boomerang, a basketball... How will he defend himself against knights in shining armours, how will he roast his marshmallows? And more importantly, what's going on? Has someone cast a spell on him? A crazy, hilarious and epic examination, beautifully accompanied by detailed illustrations.

Sylvain Zorzin writes children's stories for various magazines (Pomme d'api, Les Belles Histoires, J'aime lire).

Brice Follet lives in Northern France, near the Belgian frontier. He studied art in Belgium, specializing in comics and children's books.

A Dino's Love

Text and illustrations by Baptiste Puaud

What we love

- o Themes: love, dinosaurs.
- o A play on words and images that will stimulate children's mind and draw smiles from children and adults alike.
- o Colorful, dynamic illustrations, honoring the eternal love of Mr. & Mme Dino.
- o Original ways to say «I love you» that will be comforting for kids and for any reader!

24 pages - 16x16cm - 0-3 yrs +

When Mrs Dino asks Mr. Dino how much he loves her, he uses his environment to explain it: he loves her higher than a diplodocus, bigger than a triceratops. And the list goes on, because there are so many ways to tell «I love you».

After graduating from art school Pivaut (Nantes), Baptiste Puaud moved to Alsace with his life partner and fellow artist, Anne Mahler (Radegonde and the Dragon, and The Mirror's Monster). There he paints, draws, imagines and gives drawing lessons.

Just Once

Text by Séverine Vidal
Illustrations by Csil

A little girl speaks about her dreams. Just once, just once, she would like...

« To eat a sandwich bigger than me,
To change the colors of the world,
To speak with the birds, perched on the thread. »

What we love

- o Poetic illustrations in a great dialogue with the text.
- o Childhood dreams and imagination celebrated in the sweetest way.
- o A best-seller, with awarded authors!
- o A very simple and positive way to speak about happiness.
- o Easy to use in schools.

Séverine Vidal is a full time author. She received more than 50 awards! Her titles have been translated in almost 10 languages.

Csil is a young yet already famous illustrator. Her previous works, Mme Eiffel, Paul, Le Vilain Défaut, have been translated in more than 5 languages and one was selected in the New York Times 10 best books 2015.

Pacific

Text by Nicolas Mestre
Illustrations by Maylis Paradis

What we love

- o A game-book, puzzle included!
- o Discovery of a Polynesian isle and life through the eyes of a little boy.
- o An initiatory story with dazzling & exotic illustrations.
- o A poetic ode to peace and sea wild-life.

20 pages + 9 cards game
24x30cm- 7 yrs +

Book

+ Puzzle and Card Game!

Tini swims, jumps, runs on his Polynesian island.

He plays with crabs and turtles, explores and observes the wonders of his findings.

His shadow grows up as the day goes on. What if he was growing up, too?

At the end of the day, he hears a cry. A new baby is born!

Nicolas Mestre is a nurse and an author. He travelled the World and especially loved his stay in Oceania.

Maylis Paradis is an artist and lives in Paris since 2016. Pacific is her first picture book.
